

Lancashire - A Brief Encounter

From the bright lights of the coastal resorts to quiet sandy beaches, from beautiful countryside and quaint villages to vibrant city locations; as well as mills, castles and historic houses, Lancashire has much to offer. The county has been used for lots of great film locations. One of the most famous is of course "Brief Encounter", directed by David Lean, it was re-written, re-named and starred Celia Johnson and Trevor Howard. Many of the shots of Milford Junction Station in the film were actually Carnforth station, in Lancashire. Carnforth Station has recently been completely rejuvenated and many of the views seen in Brief Encounter are still recognisable.

Scarborough Single Rooms Special

Due to the success of our Summer Single Room specials we are please to offer an early break to one of our most popular Hotels and destinations. Our base for this Early Saver Break will be in Scarborough which is set on Yorkshire's beautiful coastline and famous for its magnificent seascapes, the town has been a well known holiday resort since the 17th century. There is a charming old town with many narrow streets, theatres, restaurants and sea front cafes selling their traditional Cockles and Mussels. Scarborough is the perfect place to enjoy a holiday full of good old fashioned fun. All of this with a backdrop of the North York Moors, one of the largest expanses of heather moorland in the United Kingdom.

THE ESPLANADE HOTEL ★★★ 01723 360382
